

Negotiation: The Hidden Dimension of the Nonviolent Struggles of our Era

Monday, December 4, 2006
1:30 P.M. – 5:00 P.M.

Ropes Gray Room (Pound Hall), Harvard Law School. Reception to Follow.

As many of you are aware, the Program on Negotiation will host a symposium entitled Negotiation: The Hidden Dimension of the Nonviolent Struggles of Our Era on the afternoon of Monday, December 4.

This year is the 100th anniversary of Gandhi's philosophy of nonviolent resistance, Satyagraha, and we are pleased that Ela Gandhi, granddaughter of Mahatma Gandhi and former member of Parliament in South Africa, will be our guest of honor.

Sponsored by the Program on Negotiation at Harvard Law School and the Global Negotiation Project, the symposium is one in a series of events exploring the intersection of negotiation and strategic nonviolent action. Dr. William Ury, director of the Global Negotiation Project, will be participating in the symposium, as will Professor Adil Najam (Tufts University) and nonviolent action activists Dr. George Lakey (Training for Change), and Dr. Maria Stephan (International Center on Nonviolent Conflict). Professor James Sebenius (Harvard Business School) will moderate.
